

Materials for Study of Baptist Principles
Cooperative Baptist Fellowship of South Carolina
www.cbfofsc.org | 803.779.1888

A. Baptist Principles:

1. Being Baptist by Eileen R. Campbell-Reed
2. The Baptist Identify: Four Fragile Freedoms by Walter B. Shurden
3. The Baptist Heritage Library series of pamphlets by the Baptist History and Heritage Society
4. A Baptist's Theology by R. Wayne Stacy, Editor

B. Baptist History:

1. Call Me Jeremiah by E.C. Watson, Chapter 2, "Where is God?", pp13-21
2. Turning Points in Baptist History; Brochure # NC0001 from set of nine on "The Baptist Style for a New Century," by the Baptist History and Heritage Society.
3. Down by the Riverside: a Brief History of the Baptist Faith by Everett C. Goodwin

C. Baptist Doctrine:

1. Our Baptist Tradition by William Powell Tuck
2. The Baptist Faith and Message 1963. (this is included in the spirit of E.Y. Mullins: "Creeds are very valuable when used properly, but, like all other good things, dangerous when used otherwise. Creeds are the natural and normal expression of the religious life. The right to make them is nothing more nor less than the divinely given right to think." Baptist Beliefs, p. 6, E. Y. Mullins, Judson Press 1925.

D. Baptist Living:

1. Call Me Jeremiah by E.C. Watson, Chapter 3 "What Shall We Do?"
2. It's Time: An Urgent Call To Christian Mission, by Daniel Vestal
3. Who We Are, booklet from Cooperative Baptist Fellowship

For advanced or more in depth study:

Mercer University Certificate in Baptist Studies Program

This is a non-degree Certificate Program designed for clergy or laity. The program should be ideal for a more in depth study of Baptist Principles at home on one's own and at one's own pace.

Information can be found online at the home page of The Center for Baptist Studies or at : the Center for Baptist Studies, Mercer University, 1400 Coleman Avenue, Macon, Georgia 31207.